

A date for your diary: 17 October, UN Day for the Eradication of Poverty

Close to the Famine Memorial, the commemoration will bring together people from different walks of life and responsibilities. They will gather in a gesture of solidarity with those whose daily struggle against poverty and exclusion is a struggle for the respect of human rights.

Place : Custom House Quay, Dublin 1

Time : 11 am

Master of Ceremonies : John Lonergan, former Governor of Mountjoy Prison

An interpreter from the Centre for Deaf Studies at Trinity College will be present during the commemoration.

Refreshments will be served afterwards in the Liberty Hall.

For more information about the World Day, please contact the 17th October Committee
c/o ATD Fourth World-Ireland, 26 Mountjoy Square, Dublin 1. Tel: 01 855 8191
Or visit www.overcomingpoverty.org

"The Department of Social Protection supports this project as part of its funding initiative for the UN Day for the Eradication of Poverty"